WHEELIE-POPPING POODLE NEEDS HOME BY JULY 1

(Newbury Park, CA) Lamb Chop, a loving, playful six-year-old miniature Poodle, is going to lose her home July 1 and the Hogan Family Foundation's Lifeline 4 Paws Rescue Support Program is desperately trying to find a new family to take her in. Lamb Chop suffered from an untreated back injury when she was about a year old, but today gets around just fine and even chases down tennis balls outfitted in a special, two-wheel cart.

Christine Hogan, executive vice president of the Hogan Family Foundation and head of the Lifeline 4 Paws rescue support program, said, "Lamb Chop is a true easy rider who has been in a wonderful foster home for the past four years. Unfortunately, her caretakers recently lost their home and can no longer keep this little ball of energy. Lamb Chop has mastered her disability and even walks some on her own, but she can really move when she has her cart strapped on. She deserves good people to love and watch over her. She'll more than return the affection."

Lamb Chop is spayed and current on all shots. For more information, call Lori at 805-231-5993, e-mail lori@lifeline4paws.org or go online at www.lifeline4paws.org.
